Overview of UNT Campus Shuttle Service Changes

DCTA will implement key changes on behalf of the University of North Texas (UNT) by stationing new transit hub centers at Fouts Field and Union Circle. These changes will contribute to UNT's vision of a more safe and walkable campus. Modifying these routes will help save money in fuel and other costs, and help ensure the sustainability of overall transit operations for UNT.

Below is an overview of UNT Campus Shuttle changes overall:

- Fouts Field and the University Union will be established as the two main transit hubs (drop off/pick up locations) on campus. Students will have the option to ride the Denton Connect bus routes 7 and 8 (free with a UNT-student ID) to travel between Fouts and the University Union building.
- Some bus stops are changing and riders are encouraged to refer to the shuttle maps and schedules on UNT's Transportation page.
- The Mean Green shuttle will serve as the campus connector route that will bus students from both Fouts Field and Union Circle to various points on campus. There are new stops along the campus connector route to campus.
- Most shuttle morning routes will have the same bus frequency as the previous semester.
- The Sam Bass shuttle frequency will be reduced for the 2017-2018 school year. In fall 2018, the shuttle will no longer be in operation.
- Effective Monday, August 28, the Campus Cruiser shuttle will no longer be in operation. The Mean Green campus connector route will pick up stops previously served by the Campus Cruiser shuttle such as Victory Hall by Apogee Stadium.
- Students who plan to drive to campus and arrive after 10 a.m. are encouraged to utilize the following two transit options:
 - Park at DCTA's MedPark Station located at 3220 MedPark Drive and ride the A-train to the Downtown Denton Transit Center for free (part of DCTA's free A-train fare zone promotion) and transfer to Denton Connect Routes 7 or 8 get to campus using a UNT-student ID
 - Ride the Colorado Express shuttle from MedPark Station to campus free with a UNT-student ID
- Effective Monday, August 28, the Colorado Express shuttle will no longer stop at the Golden Triangle Mall from Colorado Blvd.
